

Chicken Share Information and

Hi GroundWork Community! We are Amy and Jim Baughman, your CSA's chicken farmers. We are pleased to offer you the same high quality chickens Rob Fix provided you last CSA season. We have confidence you will find them a close comparison. Rob has shared his information with us to ensure consistency in the quality of chicken you receive. We believe you will find it REALLY does Taste Like Chicken!

Who? Our Farm

On our Brush Mountain farm near Spring Mills, we have been raising poultry (chickens, turkeys, ducks, and geese) for over 8 years on our 17 acres of mixed pasture and forest.

For the GroundWork CSA, we are raising Freedom Ranger and Cornish Roaster chickens. The Freedom Rangers are a slower growing French breed known for their superior grazing ability, slightly elongated breast and unparalleled flavor. Recognized by SlowFood, this breed is often sold under the LabelRouge. Look them up! We are also raising the faster growing Cornish Roasters. They are known for their large round, juicy breast. These chickens, many of Rob's customers rave, are the best they have ever tasted.

The chickens are "pasturaised" from the start, living in chicken tractors within a pasture enclosed by portable fence. As they grow, they no longer need the protection provided by the tractors and are free to range in the portable pastures. We regularly move both the tractors and the fence to ensure continual access to fresh grass, insects, seeds, and nuts. This nutritious diet is supplemented with feed from a local mill containing corn, wheat, soybeans, and barley. This non-gmo feed blend does NOT contain antibiotics or animal by-products. We NEVER use chemicals on our land or our animals.
